A Note from the Editor

As our 20th year of continuous publication as a peer-reviewed journal draws to a close, this regular issue of JHCPU appears with a lengthy supplement titled Social Determinants of Children’s Health: The Developing World, sponsored by the Kellogg Foundation. The supplement spans the globe, reaching from sub-Saharan Africa to India, Taiwan, Central America, and the Caribbean. Guest Editors Gillian Barclay (Pan American Health Organization) and Camara Jones (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) provide an Introduction for this important volume.
